BLINK OF AN EYE

When shadows are falling,
I hear them crawling deep inside
They're taking you over without invitation It's all you're afraid of, abominations of the mind
Their fury awaken, your own creation

Every second you're wasting,
you gotta keep hasting
Keeps you falling behind and life is passing you by No time for resting,
you gotta keep hasting
Or your life is gone in the blink of an eye

In tears you will fight them, a tiny crack is all they need
To grab you and bring you to your destruction They'll watch you in quiet, they'll get you when you're on your knees
Then laugh as they crush you with satisfaction

Every second you're wasting,
you gotta keep hasting
Keeps you falling behind and life is passing you by
No time for resting, you gotta keep hasting
Or your life is gone in the blink of an.

Every second you're wasting, you gotta keep hasting Makes you run out of time, beast is passing you by
No time for resting, you gotta keep hasting
Or your life is gone in the blink of an eye

CROSSING OVER

So you pushed and pushed until there was nothing left to kill inside me
And you killed and killed until there was nothing left to be reborn And I cried and cried until there were no more tears to flood my eyes and leave
And I died and died and I hurt
'til I bled 'til I dealt with my head

Now I'm aching to the point of breaking
Can't you see my awakening,
from the sleep I was laying in
Don't need a second to unbreak it
Don't need a moment to remake it, you see
With every promise that you're breaking
With every stumbling you're making I'm free
And I'm crossing over

So I hushed and hushed to silence all the fears that yelled inside me And I crushed and crushed all voices in my head that spoke the truth
I still cry and cry, I cry for all these years
I leave behind me
But I've made up my mind, I've been blind, now it's time, have to leave you behind

Because I'm aching to the point of breaking
Can't you see my awakening,
from the sleep I was laying in
Don't need a second to unbreak it
Don't need a moment to remake it, you see
With every promise that you're breaking
With every stumbling you're making I'm free
And I'm crossing over

Ending. ..ending the pain
Breaking. ..breaking the chain

CHRISTIANNA

FAR AWAY

Trapped in a skin that doesn't fit...hear me
A siren has never ceased to sing. .in me
Always felt that there's something wrong. with me
Never felt I truly belong

Far beyond this black horizon
Lies the dream you've set your eyes on
Lies the paradise your heart wants
If you sail, far away

Long for a change that never comes. .to be free
Always chase a place in the sun. .in here
Every time there's silence around. .I hear Secret whispers calling out loud

Far beyond.

Have I trusted in smoking mirrors?
Was it all a dream? Was it all false?
Waited all my life for this moment, when I'd break away from this torment

Far beyond this black horizon
Lies the dream you've set your eyes on
Lies the paradise your heart wants
Lies the reason why you were born

Far beyond this black horizon
Lies the greatest prize you have won Brightest skies you've laid your eyes on
You must sail, so far away

BURIED ALIVE

I can't hear. .can't see. what is hiding
Ice keeps my eyes from seeing what's behind
I can no longer feel. .no longer

Senses go and I lie still, years will grow within me
All there is to feel
Loving all I used to hate, can no longer free me
In this frozen life I'm buried alive

Time is drifting away, it gets colder each day
As memories fade to a dead shade of grey
I'm falling to black and there's no coming back Can no more recall who I used to be
I can no longer feel. .oh no longer

Senses go and I lie still. ...

Don't give me no reason to run from this prison
I would rather stay instead
There's nothing to save, I'm safe in this grave
There's no pain when you are dead

Senses go and I lie still, years will grow within me
All there is to feel
Loving all I used to hate, can no longer free me
I am freezing
Senses go and I lie still, years will grow within me
Can no longer feel
Loving all I used to hate, can no longer free me
In this frozen life I'm buried alive

AS THE FLOWER WITHERS

Times are changing, all there once was lost and washed away
We're aging, growing weaker, never here to stay
I've never been so eager,
\to let myself dream bigger
So if our love will wither,
I will no longer be there

In the tide, I will bury all the pain inside
as the ending lingers
I will hide, so you never ever see me cry
as the flower withers

It's not easy, sitting by and watching life go by So dizzy, sick with heartache, yet I'll say goodbye
I've never been so eager,
to let myself dream bigger
I know the truth is bitter,
I can no longer be there

In the tide, I will bury all the pain inside
as the ending lingers
as the flower withers

In the night, I will bury all the pain inside
as the ending lingers
When it's time,
I will save myself the tears and hide
As the flower withers

As the flower withers...
As the flower withers...

RAID THE UNIVERSE

'Have I not told you,
you have always thought too little of me dear
You called me weak when I could swear
I could bring stars down for you
And now you're changing planet, thinkin' that I'll only leave it be But I'm already tracking down your course and coming for you

And as you fly, speed of light
Should you know, I'm packing spaceships Leave this world behind, far beyond your mind
Never give it a rest,
I will raid the universe

Have you not told me you have always thought of breaking out from here
You called me weak when I could swear
I'd give the sun up for you

And as you climb, stars up high
Should you know, I fly through spaces
Leave this world behind, far beyond your mind
Never give it a rest, I will raid the universe
I will run through space and time,
I'm not giving up without a fight
I'll never settle for less, I will raid the universe

Leave this world behind, far beyond your mind
Never give it a rest, I will raid the universe
I will run through space and time,
I'm not giving up without a fight
I'll never settle for less, 'til I raid the universe

Raid the universe...

THIS TIME

Seems like your whole life's masterpiece was just to bring me down
Seems tearing me apart has always kept you smiling Convincing me I'm only worst at what I've been best at Your scaring me to death has always kept me hiding
This time I'll break out so

You said that I should quit believing
So I bled, but still I made it through the fight
I bet, you're standing close to see me
I think I've made it this time

One tiny ray of light escaped your terrifying grasp I don't know how it crept into the grave I laid in Your reign of fear is fading

You said that I should quit believing
So I bled, but still I made it through the fight
I bet, you're standing close to see me
I think I've made it
You said that I should quit believing
So I bled, but still I made it through the fight
I bet, you're standing close to see me
I think I've made it this time

BRAND NEW ME

What's it like to spend you days in the shadows
Reach a dead end on your road
What's it like to be a ghost just like I was
'Til somebody cuts the rope

It feels like, I'm dreaming
There ain't no doubt I'm feeling
Prison walls are shaking
With every breath I'm taking,
I see a brand new me

What's it like to face the truth for the first time
When there's no one left to blame
Just let go and leave this burden behind
Let those clouds drop their rain

It feels like, I'm dreaming
There ain't no doubt I'm feeling
Prison walls are shaking,
with every breath I'm taking
Through the dark inside me,
I got new light to guide me
Chains of fear are breaking
With every breath I'm taking,
I see a brand new me

All I needed was me, I was too blind to see
I have locked me in that cell
All I needed was there, never thought I would dare
To escape from myself

What's it like to spend your days in the shadows
Reach a dead end on your road.

It feels like I'm dreaming.

BLUE SEASONS

In the clouds, in the fog, in the mist
In the storm, in the cold, in the rain you came running
Like a wind, like curse, like a breeze
Crept into the places that I have been hiding
Like a drop, like the dust, like the sand
Like a ray, like the light, like the perfect tornado
Like a whisper inside my brain, we battled again
And I lost and I let go

I can't run away from this lie, can't set my clocks back to the time
When oceans ran so serene, I can't wake up from this dream

Blue seasons, I am shivering
Dust built on us, covered everything
Blue seasons, night eternal and cruel
I only hide in seasons of blue

In the clouds, in the mist, in the fog I keep on running
Like a leaf, I will fall, before the winter's coming

I can't run away from this lie, can't sail my ships back to the time
When oceans ran so serene, I can't wake up from this dream

Blue seasons, I am shivering
Dust built on us, covered everything
Blue seasons, night eternal and cruel
I only hide in seasons of blue

I wish I stayed away from the shadow Somewhere back in time lies all I would die for

Blue seasons, I am shivering
Dust built on us, covered everything
Blue seasons, night eternal and cruel
I only hide in Seasons of.

Blue seasons, I am shivering
Time built on us, I miss everything
Blue seasons, night eternal and cruel
I only hide in seasons of blue

Rain will keep on falling,
Rain will keep on falling down.
Rain will keep on falling,

ETERNITY

Haven't you heard
That everything dies, however beautiful
Could be absurd
But into your eyes I see our rise and fall Purest of roses grow, there comes a time when roses are dying
Under the sun they'll glow
There comes a time their petals are dying

Petals are dying. .can't live forever

Brightest of colours fade
There comes a time they're no longer shining Butterflies live for a day
There comes a time their petals are dying

Petals are dying...can't live forever

Enchained by our mortality
Too weak to reach eternity

Petals are dying...can't live forever
